Have you seen any creatures in your garden? Backyards can provide habitats for many animals. This wonderful series provides information on animals that live in or visit Australian gardens. Children can find out what these animals eat, what eats them and where they might be found—as well as interesting facts about their life cycles. The books feature large colour photographs and clear text, explanations of key words, and the scientific name of each animal pictured.

Key features:

- ★ Lots of great colour photographs of Australian animals
- ★ Thorough, comprehensive coverage of the subject matter in each title
- ★ A key word explained on each spread
- ★ The scientific name of each animal pictured is included
- ★ Each book includes a glossary and an index.

Actual text size:

The nymphs grow and shed their skin several times before they reach adult size in summer.
